

Where You Belong

Steve Moakler

Is there a place inside your heart i could fill up like a sturdy shopping card and race across the pavement to my car i'll put petal to the metal til i'm where you are i got my windshield wipers on perfect timing to the rhytm of the song which reminds me that i am just to scare to let you go you're too much of who i am you're too much of what i know and i, i wanna see you inside out and i, i wanna make your world go round behind your eyes is the source of my fears and like a thousand words i've been dying to hear so come on hurts to breathe when you're gone i've gotta get you out of here i hear paradise is nice this time of year please just put your secrets in my ears i won't tell nobody because nobody needs to hear

can't wait to get you all alone show me a side of you that you have never shown i've been dying for a taste of the tip of your lips about to slide these hands down the side of your hips i, i wanna see you inside out

your world go round

so come on now

this is where you belong
