Longer Letter Later

Steve Wariner

Dear Annie, I'm sorry it's been a long, long time There's so much on my mind I want to call you, I'm dropping you this line Lieu of walls I can't climb Thought I'd let you know

Since I let you go I've come to rue the day A silly card I guess but I must confess There's so much more to say Longer letter later

I blew it, I know it And all I have to show is this heartache I feel I may be crazy, but everything I know Tells me try and appeal

Are you having fun? Have you found someone To shed new light on you?

Maybe pen and ink Will make you stop and think Of all that we've been through Longer letter later

If only you could see this brand new me I know you'd change your plan

Here's the postscript now Meant to show you how I'm a different man Longer letter later Longer letter later
