

She Thinks I Am

Steve Wariner

Every time she looks at me
She sees the man I want to be
Someone who is always strong
Who'll be the rock she's leaning on
But not afraid to show his heart sometimes

To hear the way she speaks my name
Yeah, that's my only claim to fame
And Lord, I pray she'll never change her mind

She puts her trust in me
Gives me her love faithfully
For the rest of my life, I'll try to be the man
She thinks I am

She's almost making me believe
I can justify her faith in me
'Cause every time she takes my hand
I'm a better man

She puts her trust in me
Gives me her love faithfully
For the rest of my life, I'll try to be the man
She thinks I am