By: Steve Wynn I know it's time for leaving I don't wanna look in your eyes You say: "I never noticed you anyway" So it should come as no surprise I can hear you leave I guess it's alright You say that I got no heart but it only comes at night They say, don't know what you have Today it ain't what you've got They say I'll find out how much I miss you But you know that I'd rather not Now it's time for leaving It's gonna be alright You say that I got no heart but it only comes at night You say I'll never find another to love me like you do But what good is some kind of lover Who would do, do those things to you? Don't go by that door I'll get it myself soon as you're leaving is replaced by someone else I don't wanna see you don't turn on the lights You say that I never saw anything but it only comes out at nightOther Steve Wynn songs
