Faithful Too

Steven Curtis Chapman

It's a brand new day and the sun is shining bright; Looks like it's gonna be the very best day of my life. So I jump out of bed into a world of opportunities; I gotta get movin', no time to get down on my knees. Then the telephone rings; It's the voice of tragedy. No I suddenly find The time to get down on my knees.

I say, "I love You", I always look to You when trouble calls my name; But if I'm gonna say, "I love You", I've gotta be faithful too . The true test of my love will be Did I follow you consistently, Through the good and bad; I want to be faithful too.

Talk is cheap; Some words come a dozen for a dime. But a real life conversation Will take some precious time, And if I give my all, Lord that's the least that I can do, Compared to all the faithfulness I have found in You. So if tragedy calls, Or if everything goes my way, I want to be found Faithful to you every day.
