For Who He Really Is

Steven Curtis Chapman

"Too many hypocrites" I heard her say I even saw it in the headlines today How can I follow God when His own people turn away"

Nobody?s perfect but I just want to see Somebody living, what they say they believe They?ve got all this world needs like they say I wonder why won?t they give some away

Can she see God for who He really is In what she sees in you and me, hey Can she see God for who He really is For who He really is, is all she really needs to see

He slips into church and he puts up his guard They look so happy but his life?s been so hard He keeps his distance so they won?t see the scars

It?s just religion that?s all dressed up in white And God is love as long as you?re living right But does he know that Jesus also has scars And His love can reach Him no matter how far

Can he see God for who He really is In what he sees in you and me, hey Can he see God for who He really is For who He really is, is all he really needs to see Is all he really needs to see

The skeptics are watching to see who will fall While those disillusioned search for the truth in it all Maybe today we?ll cross their paths unaware And they?ll stop and look at us, what will be there?

Will they see God for who He really is In what they sees in you and me, hey Can they see God for who He really is For who He really is, is all they really needs to see

Can they see God for who He really is They really need to see, who He really is