

When You Are A Soldier

Steven Curtis Chapman

When you are a soldier I will be your shield
I will go with you into the battlefield
And when the arrows start to fly take my hand and hold on tight
I will be your shield, 'cause I know how it feels
When you are a soldier

When you're tired from running I will cheer you on Look beside you and you'll see you're not alone
And when your strength is all but gone I'll carry you until you
're strong
And I will be your shield 'cause I know how it feels
When you're a soldier

I will be the one you can cry your songs to
And my eyes will share your tears
And I'll be your friend if you win or if you're defeated
Whenever you need me I will be here

When you're lost in darkness I will hold the light
I will help you find your way through the night
I'll remind you of the truth and keep the flame alive in you
And I will be your shield 'cause I know how it feels
When you are a soldier
And I will be your shield 'cause I know how it feels
When you are a soldier
