

Give Me Just A Little More Time

Stevie B

I'm sitting here as the sands of time are blown away
I'm feeling hurt of the faith that I've been showing
We spend our lives hiding what we feel
In a haze dismiss from what is real
It's time to tell the truth now
You know in time I find myself
My heart and me, your love will help

Give me give me just a little more time
I'll be back on my feet again
You'll see you'll see my loving in time
I'll be loving you till the end

I need to feel the touch of your coming spirit
Will you guide me you know that I believe it
My legs are weak, will you help me stand
I've got to make a change I'm trying to understand
Now listen to me yeah
Just take control don't let me go
Just comfort me so I will know

This heart of mine can let you go
Just stay with me and I will show
To the end of time you'll always be
Always there for me
