

Smoke Stack

Stick Figure

its the time time to hold on i'm back up on the mic and singing all night long when i got the force nothing can go wrong when i got the style i'm drinking all night long shit got whack, get off of my back always moving forward on a one way track never looking back, no picking up slack aint got no enemies, still upon the attack.. don't call upon me to break down your door i wont live like this this no more oh not no more so i sail out to the sea, there was nothing left for me but everything thats great but its gone eventually so i need some room to breath, from confusion and this greed got everything you want so don't blame me

listen to the voice up inside your head I listened to words that your father-man said he said no more and finally you see, it's how its gonna be nothing is for certain, prepare it mentally and even if you bleed, even if you feel take a look around, nothing round is real here many time it many time it seem now life is but a dream now When your on on the ground down feel power up inside you and i dont know what else i can say i'm looking and i feel like i'm living in a ghost town

dont call upon me to break down your door
no no more
