

Life Through Western Eyes

Stick to Your Guns

out of style out of date quick!
you better start clearing out some closet space.
such a waist but tv has it justified.
life through western eyes. homicidal kids, the drugs and the queer they have us all living in a culture of fear and you better forget about trusting your peers.
life through western eyes.
"what color is my safety today?"
"i drank water from the sink, do you think thats okay?"
"i really dont think its safe to go outside today."
"this is what happens when we dont pray" increase the insanity - they have us right where they want us.
by our heads and by our wallets.
another day in locked in paradise.
theres nothing to see here so just close your eyes.
substance abuse declines while the war on drugs intensifies.
you dont have to agree. this is called better safe than sorry.
life through western eyes.
too fat too ugly you will amount to nothing you better pick the pace or you'll be stuck on the side lines life through western eyes.
this is life through western eyes
life through western eyes
so you better not think just sit back and take another drink wh y swim when we can sink increase the insanity
