

Surrounded by Liars

Stillwell

Hand behind my back, got my fingers crossed
Read between the lines, the fine print got me lost
Lie detector failed, the check is in the mail
A room full of strangers, surrounded by liars
In a room full of loved ones, surrounded by liars
In a room full of enemies, surrounded by liars
In a room full of mirrors, surrounded by liars
In a room full of strangers, surrounded by liars
In a room full of loved ones, surrounded by liars
In a room full of enemies, surrounded by liars
In a room full of mirrors, surrounded by liars
Momma's superstitions, dad's exaggerations
Politicians' truth, looses half the nation
Tangled web we weave, I just can't believe
A room full of strangers, surrounded by liars
In a room full of loved ones, surrounded by liars
In a room full of enemies, surrounded by liars
In a room full of mirrors, surrounded by liars
In a room full of strangers, surrounded by liars
In a room full of loved ones, surrounded by liars
In a room full of enemies, surrounded by liars
In a room full of mirrors, surrounded by liars

Swear to tell the truth, if it sets me free
Convolute the proof, make it work for me
Sounds ridiculous, wait for saint Nicholas

A room full of strangers, surrounded by liars
In a room full of loved ones, surrounded by liars
In a room full of enemies, surrounded by liars
In a room full of mirrors, surrounded by liars
In a room full of strangers, surrounded by liars
In a room full of loved ones, surrounded by liars
In a room full of enemies, surrounded by liars
In a room full of mirrors, surrounded by liars
