Parliament Square

Stina Nordenstam

This is no final solution
No this is just for today
I'm running from London pollution
Still cold from the rain

These are not perfect conditions No this is far from ideal This is a downcast position At least it is real

It may be silent but I hear bombs fall I hear sirens down in Whitehall I see fires around you Paul But you stand so still And you look so small And I'm so tired, Of no help at all

You've been missing for weeks now You never go far from the site They won't ask when you show up They're paid and polite

It may be silent but I hear bombs fall
I hear sirens down in Whitehall
I see fires around you Paul
And you need a drink
Your eyes are glowing
It might be too late
There's no way of knowing

This is no final solution
No this is just for today
I'm running from London pollution
Still cold from the rain
