

Don't come over, I don't want your company
I think you ought to spend a little bit of time alone
You say you don't need it, but damn, I know you got to have it
I'll tell you why, it's stronger when it's on its own

Ooh, I got eleven on the inside
This hell is nothing new
If there's a heaven on the other side
You better pray you I don't get through

I'm not better than you, I'm just better
I've been fighting just to breathe my whole damn life
What do you think you know and what do you want to know?
I never thought I'd let the truth tell all my lies...
My lies, yeah

Ooh, I got eleven on the inside
This hell is nothing new
If there's a heaven on the other side
You better pray you I don't get through

Bleeding for the savages
You bill me for the damages
When you're dealing with the devil
You know you got to watch your back
Stack, ya thick, ya slick
They pull you in a killer embrace
To your face
You can trust 'em, love 'em
Until you start to turn it away
And then they throw it all away

Ooh, I got eleven on the inside
This hell is nothing new
If there's a heaven on the other side
You better pray I don't get through

Ooh, I got eleven on the inside
This hell is nothing new
If there's a heaven on the other side
You better pray I don't get through
