Influence of a Drowsy God

All those times before When I was just another face Among the others Keeping secrets to save myself I could blend into the background And savor the unknown I could practice preservation And hide behind this shell

But my god's unleashed On a world that is falling down My call is a beast that will not Let me give up now I know I'm all or nothing

Giving my illation A little something to relax All the others and decisions Will make me go mad There's no time to hear the arguments Or simply close my eyes I believe this confrontation Deserves my full attention

When my god's unleashed on a world That is falling down My call is a beast that will not Let me give up now I know I'm all or nothing I'm all or nothing

I can see why nothing has happened Promises strain I'm writing this down as I run Take all the examples And what have I learned? Nothing can heal you And everything burns

My god's unleashed on a world That is falling down My call is a beast that will not Let me give up now I'm all or nothing I'm all or nothing Nothing Nothing Nothing
