

Somebody Stole My Eyes

Stone Sour

Waiting for the end of the world - stop!
We know just what to do
Sitting in the back, ready to rat
Fuck this, fuck that and fuck you too
Gods and monsters, what do you need?
Can't wait to watch you bleed
Putting on my blue suede shoes
And dancing on your fucking grave

Who said?
You'll feel me in the end
Just then
Somebody stole my eyes again

I am a rock 'n roll Han Solo, the only one around
I am a bastard and a scoundrel shooting first and going down
The Anime arithmetic will show you what I mean
Turning septicemic from the shit that's in between

Repent!
We haven't seen you since
But then
It's upside down again
I know
It's only fluid
The devil made me do it
But God could've stopped me

I know it's only after midnight
We've still got time to have a good fight
So hit me back with all you can
I know it's only what you wanted
Love's so much better when you're hunted
Somebody stole my eyes again
Somebody stole my eyes

Running around about, nothing around about
Looking around I can't see
What in the world am I, how did I ever die
Something I loved is now dead
What is wrong with you? Coming to see you soon
I can hardly wait
Murder another man, killer of Caliban
Catatonic state

I know it's only after midnight
We've still got time to have a good fight
So hit me back with all you can
I know it's only what you wanted
Love's so much better when you're hunted
Somebody stole my eyes again
Stole my eyes

Rob me blind
