Stone Sour

Tired

I'm alive in here So alive in here Pulling down a little peace I'm up and wide in here Slow to rise in here Saving grace and killing me

You say this only makes me incomplete I'm cancelled out and rendered obsolete Tell the Machiavellian he's not welcome anymore I know what I'm looking for Somewhere close! Somewhere safe! Somewhere I know, I know, I'll never live in chains The one, is now aware, so stay away from me I'm just too young to care!

I can see in here And I can feel in here Comatose with common sense I take my time in here Somebody get me out of here What am I so against?

I just want to watch the whole world burn Lost a million times and I won't learn Show me someone innocent I'll show you there's no proof I may be gullible but I'm no fool

I'm not close
I'm not safe
I don't know, dunno, am I better off in chains?
The one, is not aware, so stay away from me
I'm just too young to care

I need somewhere close! Somewhere safe Somewhere I know, I know, I'll never live in chains The one, is now aware, so stay away from me I'm just too young to care
