Stormwind

The walls were turned to ashes, skyward you're warding off the demons i recall a journey through the time that we found did you shiver deep in your spines?

We crossed the line and we finally find. The journey of our lives together all the time!

You are the soul i've waited for! Savior of my happiness empress of my true faith!

You are my honey-warm delight! Take my open hand for a soul dance! For a souldance!

I trust my heart and follow the signs like the colours in your cat eyes!

Beneath the mountains over the clouds dancing souls with passion in their hearts!
