

The Kiss of Death

Stormwitch

When I saw you in that moonlit night
The sea mirrored your face
Your silhouette so angelic
I felt a deep disgrace

Yes, I know, I shouldn't do it
But I love your innocence
You will love it, when I give you
The kiss of death

Your parents died when you were young
Since then you lived alone
Your days grew on and on and on
I'd foreseen it, then I'd known

Yes, I know, I shouldn't do it
But I love your innocence
You will love it, when I give you
The kiss of death

I stole myself into your heart
I was your brother and friend
During all that time, I wished and longed
Desired the final end

Yes, I know, I shouldn't do it
But I love your innocence
You will love it, when I give you
The kiss of death
