Razorblades

Story of the Year

Yeah, yeah Yeah, yeah

Walking example of you Just wait for the silence Talking backwards to you It meant nothing to me

Watching the world fall on you I'm keeping my eyes closed Now I can see what this means to you It meant nothing to me

This wasted, so many nights and again I've wasted, so much time on a friend Too young, too proud to understand So this is the end

Perfect timing for you You'll run 'til your legs break So here's my reminder of you It meant nothing to me

This wasted, so many nights and again I've wasted, so much time on a friend Too young, too proud to understand So this is the end, go

We should've seen this coming We should've seen this Yeah yeah Yeah yeah

This wasted, so many nights and again I've wasted, so much time on a friend Too young, too proud to understand So this is the end

This wasted so many nights and again I've wasted so much time on a friend Too young, too proud to understand So this is the end Yeah, this is the end
