

Sleep

Story of the Year

A million miles an hour
We swallowed dotted lines tonight
We ingest the pavement
Ignored the passing lines

And the streets they call our names
They call our names
We'll never feel the same

Tearing through this ghost town
Beyond the lifeless streets
Still it seems they call our names
They call our names
We'll never feel the same

Tonight will pass us by
As we're breathing in this moon-lit air
Tonight will pass us by
As the world it seems to disappear
But I'm asleep at the wheel

Another destination, far away from here
Where the streets, they call our names
They call our names
We'll never feel the same again

But tonight will pass us by
As we're breathing in this moon-lit air
Tonight will pass us by
As the world it seems to disappear

But I'm here with you
We will try forever
We will drive forever
I'm here with you

But now I'm asleep at the wheel
And still the streets, they call our names
They call our names, they call our names

But tonight will pass us by
As we're breathing in this moon-lit air
Tonight will pass us by
As the world it seems to disappear

But I'm here with you
We will try forever
We will drive forever
I'm here with you

We will try forever
We will drive forever
We will try forever
We will drive forever

We will try forever
We will drive forever

I'm here with you

With you, with you, with you

I'm here with
