

Won Threw Ate

Story of the Year

Blood still pours down onto the page
Pride falls rattle we betrayed
Drowning in a flood of inequality
False sell the true meaning of love
Chests swell warning from above
Is this the kind of balance we've been dreaming of

And now we've had enough
Yeah!

Cause so far there's no such thing
That's true equality
Until a new design comes to set us free
We all, we all will

Bleed our voice
Silence writes this song
Her choice gone and in control
Hoping that someday she'll learn to play her role
No control
No control

Your right to speak your mind will be the next one to go

Just watch as it unfolds
Yeah!

Cause so far there's no such thing
That's true equality
Until a new design comes to set us free
We all will bleed

Ignorance a new disease
Prideful insecurities
Fighting to believe
So disregard the suffering
Just let the sounds of freedom ring
Through this air we breathe

All wars are created equal
All wars are created equal

Yeah we will find the answer now with one more trigger pull
Yeah!
Yeah!

Cause so far there's no such thing
That's true equality
Until a new design comes to set us free
We all, we all, all will bleed
We'll bleed!
