

Only A Fool

Strangeways

what will you do oh, i think our time has come it's is your life or my love your running from you could have walked away a thousand times before you better hold on to what is losing you you got so much left to share don't walk away

only a fool would say love will not survive if you only knew the way i'm feeling to night only a fool would say love its just a lie you're pretending that it's some kind of fashion to night where will you go would you leave it all behind where will you go if there's no one there for you to find you better hold on to what's is haunting you once your gone

you can't turn back
don't walk away

only a fool would say love will not survive
if you only knew the way i'm feeling to night
only a fool would say love its just a lie you're pretending that it's some kind of fashion when you really know your heart is breaking inside oh, it's breaking inside your heart is breaking
don't walk away