I found these plastic parts and wires Let's split me open at the seams And rip out everything inside Make room for all these new machines Sew me up, pray that i survive A brand new me Piece by piece

Stay here and watch me bleed It's a brand new me, piece by piece

I'll leave a black tear in the sky To help remember what you've seen And I'll set this place on fire Just break and burn down everything I'm made of plastic parts and wires now I wont feel anything

Stay here and watch me bleed It's a brand new me, piece by piece

My flesh, my bones, my blood They hold my hate, my love They hold my hate, my pain... Just take a breath and walk away

Stay here and watch me bleed It's a brand new me, piece by piece... Strata
