

The Game Never Ends

Stratovarius

crocodile tears from industrial giants apologies counting for nothing graveyard obsessions and shallow confessions the game never ends in a draw an eternal horizon that reaches the sky when we're standing together we cannot ever die and we're chasing the darkness away with our cry we never die

scratch of a claw by the side of a mountain make hopeless despair into promise brothers and sisters of metal together will conquer the evil as one!
