

Breathing Again

Stream of Passion

I knew you well
Your regrets your wishes
You secret names
You dreams unleashed
But little did I know
Once the fear was long gone
I'd be hearing word
So many long for
We sat and stared
Through those trembling moments
(the keys was kept on the back of my hand)
But little did we know
Once the door was open
We'd be humming songs
So many long for
For everything that we've shared in this life
You've given me a figt of song
For everything that we've been through
I give you my all
I'm breathing again
