

Earthquake

Stream of Passion

Disbelieving,
We saw the earth collapse, oh.
When the walls fell,
We felt it in your hearts, oh.

Through the crumbling buildings
I will look for you.

'Cause you and I, we could drain the ocean;
Oh, you and I, driven by emotion,
Could stop the ground from shaking.

Run for safety,
Our home's been compromised.
Nothing is sacred,
There is nowhere to hide, no.

Through the crumbling buildings,
I will look for you.

'Cause you and I, we will rise above this;
Well, you and I, we will keep our promise.
We'll stop the ground from shaking.

Torn by highest treason, will our city live again?
May ties fire bring us closer to the truth.

Through the crumbling buildings,
I will look for you.

'Cause you and I, we will rise above this;
Well, you and I, we will keep our promise.
We'll stop the ground from shaking.
