You're power mad
You want everybody to act like you
Talking your honey to people
It's venom you really say
Let's act rich and let's dress vogue
Hide our background, sell our souls

But the one you let go is back to have her say

White collar fraud... Here's for the payback White collar fraud... Tan's honesty attack White collar fraud

So pathetic you

To the actual rich, you're a sycophant

Leech on them in store for a commission percent

Boxing out your co-workers

Gaining sales for your totals

Your fellow employees now have a say, via this salvo

White collar fraud... We're calling you out White collar fraud... A backstabber without a doubt White collar fraud... You don't intimidate us no more White collar fraud

Hey you You're a retail whore Rotting in that upscale store Your fellow employees Detesting you every day

White collar fraud... We're calling you out White collar fraud... A backstabber without a doubt White collar fraud... You don't intimidate us no more White collar fraud
