Think of all the hearts beating in the world at the same time think of all the faces and the stories they could tell at the same time think of all the eyes looking out into this world trying to make some sense of what we see think of all the ways we have of seeing think of all the ways there are of being think of all the children being born into this world at the same time feel your love surround them through the years they'll need to grow at the same time just think of all the hands that will be reaching for a dream think of all the dreams that could come true yes if the hands we're reaching with could come together joining me and you when it comes to thinking of tomorrow we must protect our fragile destiny in this prescious life there's no time to borrow the time has come to be a family ohhh... think of all the love pouring from our hearts at the same time yes think of all the light our looks can shine and grow this world at the same time at the same time yes think what we've been givin and yet think what we could lose all of life is in our trembling hands its time to overcome our fears and join to build a world that loves and understands it helps to think of all the hearts beating in the world and hope for all the hearts healing in the world they'res a healing music in our hearts beating in this world at the same time at the same time
