

Hideaway

Barbra Streisand

I saw you looking in the mirror
I saw you fighting with your conscience
I think you need a little time away
And I may give you mine
And you could find me in the moon glow
You find me underneath your pillow
And we can find a little hideaway
Where we can go
I'm in the corner with a friend of mine
I stood with my defenses down
So many things that bring you close to me
That we be led astray
The wonder of desire
To love the things we cannot touch
Maybe we turn and say goodnight
And walk away
And then the story can go on without
A single tear
You take a chance on it
And change the history
And for a time we fall in love with someone
So who am I to say the words that say
We have found each other
Can we imagine any hideaway is right?
And our adventure down in paradise
Borne upon the wind
And we are one with the night
Maybe we shuffle off to Rio
A little Rio de Janeiro
And then I get a little chance to say
I'm falling into you
And you and I can change the world
If we just try (One hideaway)
This lonely heart of mine has found
A mission for your light (In your world)
To make the sense of it
And solve the mystery (In my arms)
It's just the love you forever leave
With someone
So who am I to say the words
That say we've found each other? (One sunny day)
Can we imagine any hideaway is right (In your world)
And our adventure down in paradise (In my arms)
Born upon the wind
And we are one with the night
And our adventure down in paradise
Borne upon the wind
And we are one with the night
