

If It's Meant To Be

Barbra Streisand

Why was there no applause?
It was our best performance
All in our thought last night
Went quite well

We knew all of our lines
And we knew how to say them
Just how to play them
Keeping it light till the tears fell

Though we both knew our story was ending
We were surprised when it came
Some things are just too good to be true
And no one's to blame

So there was no applause
When we brought down the curtain
We were so certain
There wasn't anything left to say

Maybe somehow our hearts knew
What our eyes couldn't see
Love would wait for us someday, someday
If it's meant to be...

So there was no applause
Though there were tears and laughter
Then moments after we left the stage
And we closed the play

Maybe somehow our hearts knew
What our eyes couldn't see
Love would wait for us someday, someday
If it's meant to be...
