Move On

Barbra Streisand

You are complete, yes, you are your own We do not belong together You are complete, just you all alone I am unfinished, I am diminished with or without you We do not belong together

And we should have belonged together What made it so right together Is what made it all wrong

No one is you and no one can be But others will do, though No one is you, no, there we agree But no one is me, no, no one is me

We do not belong together And we'll never belong

There's nothing to say I cannot be what you want I did what I had to do Now it's up to you Move on

Stop worrying where you're going Move on If you can go where you're going You've gone Just keep moving on

I chose and my world was shaking, so what? The choice may have been mistaken, the choosing was not You have to move on

Look at what you want, not what might have been Only what could be Look at all the things you did for me Opened up my eyes, taught me how to see Notice every tree, trust myself enough to move on

I want to explore the world I want to find how to get through Through this something new Something of my own Move on, move on

Stop wondering which direction is right You'd think that you found perfection And then overnight you keep moving on

Look at what you want, not at where you are Think of what you have, what can be? Look at all the things you gave to me Let me give to you something in return

Think of what we have, not the things we couldn't share Just the best of what was there

Like the care and the feeling And the life moving on

We do not belong together And we should have belonged together We have to move on

Settle for the glow, time for letting go Now the moments gone Time for moving on Move on, move on
