

Slipping in and out of reason
And I don't mind
Side effects are expected
With this experiment of mine
I want to be reborn
Breath smoke
Think black and call it a night
A temporary eclipse outshines me for a moment
I see no end in sight now

And still I wait
For this stranger inside of me
To show himself and let me be

Slowly I increase the dosage
One more try and I'll get it right now
Feel my head expanding outward
I've arrived at a place
I haven't been before yeah

Something in the atmosphere
Is speaking what I want to hear
The walls have started breathing
The colors I am seeing
The sign ahead reads welcome neighbor
Give up all your fears and enter
Step on through no hesitation

No disguises
My eyes are wide open
And I can see for the first time
How did we get this far down
How do I find my way back
From this head I've let uncoil

No disguises
My eyes are wide open
And I can see for the first time
How did we get this far down
How do I find my way back
From this head I've let uncoil
