

Bleeding from Inside Out

Stryper

You've lived a hard life, a self made prisoner
You built your house upon the sand
It sharpens the dull knife that cuts and makes
You endure
The scars that label you a - broken man

You're bleeding from inside out
Wounded beyond your own recognition
You're bandaged in fear and doubt
Brought to your knees by a life and death
Collision

You see what you want to see, a child in make believe
You rule the land where you King
There's rain that washes clean, the stains that Mark you're legacy
There is redemption - it's your destiny

You're bleeding from inside out
Wounded beyond your own recognition
You're bandaged in fear and doubt
Brought to your knees by a life and death
Collision.