The One

Stryper

I've blown up our world, and scattered pieces behind A boy and innocent girl, defined one of a kind Love was making, we were taking But now it's harder to find

You Still Move - oh You still move me yeah You Will Always - You will always be The One

I say with a smile, all I should with a word You've stayed for a while, it's bordering on absurd Cause that's your glory and pains my story But grace is what I'd prefer

You Still Move - oh You still move me You Will Always - You will always be The One
