The Reign

Cars, mansions and planes Income that never refrains The more you receive, the less you believe In His name

There will come a day When this will all pass away The world will die and millions will cry To be saved

King of Kings And Lord of all is He Come and be a part of the reign

Pride, fortune and fame Glory given to your name A heart filled with greed is planting a seed With no shame

There will come a day When you will soon pass away The Son will deny and then you will cry To be saved

King of Kings And Lord of all is He Come and be a part of the reign Stryper
