Just Let Go

Sturgill Simpson

Woke up today and decided to kill my ego

It aint ever done me no good no how

Gonna break through and blast off to the Bardo

In them flowers of light far away from the here and now

Taking a 49 divine day vacation From reality and all else in between Gonna transmigrate to my destination Far beyond time in an eternal dream

But am I dreaming or am I dying Either way I don't mind at all It feels so good you just can't help but crying You have to let go so the soul can fall

Oh my God it's so beautiful Everything is a part of me It's so hard looking through all the lies made of wool But if you close your eyes it becomes so easy to see
