

Home Is Where The Heart Aches

Subb

Check your head
Make sure it's in order
Before you break another heart
Be yourself
Don't spend your time pretending
That you'll be happy on your own
Close your eyes
And tell me the truth
That you knew it all along
'cause home is where
Home is where the heart aches
It's where my heart aches
And you're never coming back
Trust this heart
With empty explanation
'cause there ain't no turning back
Tell me now
Tell me I'm the reason
For your sudden change of mind
There's something in your eyes
That reminds me how hard I tried
There's something in your heart
And it's gotta be me.
