

All Gone Dead

Subhumans

All is quiet all is dead the city has melted
The sound has penetrated through our heads
The world has ended the gas is gone
It killed the people now the mutants live on

So long to the world
That's what they said
It's 1984 and it's all gone dead

There is no England, anarchy is right
But don't contradict or try to fight
It's always dark, there is no light
And 77 had rose to its height

They shouldn't have brought back hanging it caused a lot of fus s
No one could trust the government we had the fuckers sussed
There are no banks left they all went bust
And the houses of parliament is just pile of dust

It's 1984 and there's gonna be a war

War, war - who needs fuckin' war.
