

This World Needs a Father

Suede

hold on, he's coming through the wheels of the star machine
through the tears of your shit stained dream in an anthem for the world let him waltz you down the river let him feel like boy or girl with his sci-fi lullaby let the light of the bomb shine from him tomorrow yes this world needs a father for the sorrow so let's have one, for the lovers and one more, for the friends

'cos drink to you is all i can do as life slips down, down the drain

with the screen kissed spine of the past
hold on, he's coming
with the style of the wormwood star sing an anthem for the world sing a farewell for the river if you feel like boy or girl sing a sci-fi lullaby

let the light of the bomb shine from him tomorrow
yes this world needs a father for the sorrow so let's have one more, for the lovers
for drink to you is all i can do
