

Every Crisis Faced

Suffokate

earn your life you should have tried in the ruin of my heart this time i prayed and nothing changed i waited for nothing this time just die NOW right now chosen one prayed for a scared that who sets the truth i am a wound i recreate the night of your life is sealing your fate
every crisis faced right now try torn away i don't know torn away i infected the truth i have crawled from the earth times up for payback and brutal shot is what will paralyze you now to the world of everything turn away from the execution move this shit all i know it never dies been detached from the strand and num b like a wound from what i know and where i have been go alone stay away from me go alone every crisis faced Silence the world a cover up for the witness testing me don't come around overbearing i can't wait for death now overjoyed everyday simplified now I'm back and you can come threw alone
