

Last Days

Sugar Ray

There's no one to blame here, there's no one to blame.
In the middle of searchin, for a little redemption.
How did we get here, there's no words to say.
No use in pretending, when the story is ending.

Something is wrong here, nothing is right.
Why can't we go back to, the very first night.

This is the fallout, this is the heartache.
We're breaking apart, these are our last days.
Just like an earth quake, I'm so shook up.
You're making me crazy, these are our last days

We both want the same things, but we can't seem to change.
We'll never see eye to eye, in the wake of compromise.
Who's gonna protect you, when your home all alone?
When your friends are my enemies, whose side will you be on?

Nothing is left here, no reason to fight.
We could surrender, for one last night.

This is the fallout, this is the heartache.
We're breaking apart, these are our last days.
Just like an earth quake, I'm so shook up.
You're making me crazy, these are our last days

Last days we're, coming apart at the seams.
Don't say, you can go your own way.
Ill pray, we'll end up somewhere other than here.
'Cause we're already there, there, there.

This is the fallout, this is the heartache.
We're breaking apart, these are our last days.
Just like an earth quake, I'm so shook up.
You're making me crazy, these are our last days

And This is the fallout, and this is the heartache.
We're breaking apart, these are our last days.
And just like an earth quake, I'm so shook up.
You're making me crazy, and these are our last days

These are our last days.
These are our last days.
These are our last days.
These are our last days.