

Morning Miss Lisa

Sugarplum Fairy

When she's walking down the street
I feel insecure so weak
But I know for sure that I will never be alone anymore
When I see her face, her face
It fills me with grace, her face
And the world I know will never ever be the same anymore
And she lives in the a shadow land
So want you please take my hand
And I will never dance with no other baby
No other baby no other
And her silhouette saw it
I'll never forget, know it
It tears my eyes a picture of paradise
But she lives in the a shadow land
So want you please take my hand
And I will never dance with no other baby
No other baby no other
And the clouds are chained to the sky
As your eyes are chained to my eyes
And I will never dance with no other baby
No other baby no other
I will never ever ask you to feel the same way I do