

Rage for Revenge

SuidAkra

Seven lengthy years ago Crowned king on British soil Ruler of the western throne Commanding Britain, Spain and Gaul

At Helen's side he ruled the realm Raising castles, building roads Until one day the message came Of his banishment from Rome

His title stripped, allies gone They murdered and destroyed them all No longer emperor of the west Disgrace he never would accept

Under the Eagle Macsen left To die or triumph over Gaul Under the Dragon he'd return Retaliate and conquer Rome

A Celtic army Macsen raised To march and take the throne

To join him in his wrath for Rome A Celtic army Macsen raised To march and take the throne To aid him in his rage for revenge

Sons of Eudav crushed the gates Dragon army entered Rome Emperor caught and slain Magnus Maximus sat on the Throne

Macsen's rage had died in blood Reflecting on his throne he sat Since everything that he had touched Was now forever changed..

His title stripped, allies gone They murdered and destroyed them all No longer emperor of the west Disgrace he never would accept

Under the Eagle Macsen left To die or triumph over Gaul Under the Dragon he returned Retaliate and conquer Rome

A Celtic army Macsen raised To march and take the throne To join him in his wrath for Rome To aid him in his rage for revenge
