

Perfection is my direction,
Even if that's all I had.
It's not like I need no correction,
I just know that life's not so bad.

Picture this everyday kids that just can't find a way.
Stuck in disarray can't find hope for better days.
It's the degeneration of childhood frustration.

In the last 30 years
Teenage suicide has increased 300% in North America;
It is the second major cause of death in Canada.

Perfection is my direction,
Even if that's all I had.
It's not like I need no correction.
I just know that life's no so bad.

When will all my problems disappear.
Am I just going crazy from the fear.
Oh my oh my I'm going far past the brink.
This pressure's like a weight,
And I still can't think straight.

Perfection is my direction,
Even if that's all I had.
It's not like I need no correction,
I just know that life's not so bad.

I've met my destinations,
So what's left to complain about.
With all these aggravations,
Building till the seams fall out.

I'm running my mouth dry,
With every time I lie.
Don't tell me without a doubt
This dumbfound luck has all run out.

Perfection is my direction,
Even if that's all I had.
It's not like I need no correction, I just know that life's not so bad.
