

Can't step in my way
Head first in your love and dismay
It's like beating the dead
I can't stop going out on my head
Whatever this could be I'll never know
I never said it'd be the end all to be all
I hate you today
I can't find a way
Don't drag me down now

Goodbye, I've had enough frustration
I won't get stuck, goodbye,
This dead end situation,
It's just not worth my time

It's no better today
I never thought it would end up this way
You got somethin' to say?
Don't want to hear it if it gets in my way
All this confusion, wondering, so overwhelmed
Disillusion seems so clear now
Can't find your conclusion to support evolution
Things aren't what they appear
So what's the point of this hell?
I know you too well we're running backwards

Goodbye, I've had enough frustration
I won't get stuck, goodbye,
This dead end situation,
It's just not worth my time
But waiting so frustrating
I'm so sick of all this tension
Not to mention I'm so sick of
Can't take it we won't make it
Just save yourself this trouble
Can't take it quite for yourself
Cause I'm just fine

You speak for all of us when you can't be heard
I bet you haven't listened to not one word
You speak for all of us when you can't be heard

Goodbye, I've had enough frustration
I won't get stuck, goodbye,
This dead end situation,
It's just not worth my time
But waiting so frustrating
I'm so sick of all this tension
Not to mention I'm so sick of Sick of you
