

Pull the Curtain

Sum 41

(Where'd I go wrong?)
Pull the curtain, begin
Bear a noise, wearing thin now
It's wearing thin now
(Where'd I go wrong?)
Close my eyes, realize
I've become the victimized now
Desensitized now

The one and only day has come
I'll pay for all the bad things I've done

(Where'd I go wrong?)
Something's wrong because I find the glamor
In the dark side
In the dark side
(Where'd I go wrong?)
Cheap regrets, can't forget
Falling victim to the debt still
Unpaid in my mind

The one and only day has come
I'll pay for all the bad things I've done

It's gonna take me; you don't know tragedy
I've been to Hell and back, and can't ya tell it?
Close my eyes and lay me down to sleep
I fear the worst might be the object's to explode
And my time is up, so
Why can't I just lie?

The living dead awake, the horror show begins
So pull the curtains over me
(Bring on the panic, the un-controlling manic
It's a free-for-all commandment, every last word
And I don't care)
(Bring on the panic, the un-controlling manic
It's a free-for-all commandment, every last one of you

Suffocate the dreams in my mind
(Well, I can't stop believing)
Drown the thoughts that have me confined (Something's hard to believe in)
Murder dreams as black as the night
(That I am told to forget)
No one told the end is a lie
Suffocate the dreams in my mind
Drown the thoughts that have me confined
Murder dreams as black as the night
No one told the end is a lie

Now we're gone, do you still feel
The same? Well, now, can't you see?
I need help to stop me from myself
Well, can't you help me now?
