

The Fall and the Rise

Sum 41

Hanging by a thread now, my head's down
I'm feeling like myself now
The voices inside my head are getting too loud (Louder than a thousand drones)
I keep counting the days and I can't stop now won't break down, I'm too proud Let's give them shit to talk about
The pressure, the weight of the world won't keep my out
(This time I'm taking back what's mine)
It's been a long time coming and I just won't stop
Go

Go ahead and try to break me
It's time to take back the place where I belong
I'm done with all the chasing now I'm looking for some patience
I'm done with all the fake shit,
Cause I can't take it anymore so give me something sacred but no apologies given
I came way back to the start,
I've been to hell and back still, I've paid the devil his bills
And now I'm coming back stronger
And I'm shooting just to kill

Go ahead and try to break me
It's time to take back the place where I belong
The place where I belong
The place where I belong

The place where I belong
And fade into the stars
The race until the dawn
And I just wanna take my place
The place where I belong
And fade into the stars
The race until the dawn
And I just wanna take my place
The place where I belong

Go ahead and try to break me
It's time to take back the place where I belong
The place where I belong
Go ahead and try to break me

It's time to take back the place where I belong
The place where I belong
The place where I belong
