

I'm losing all control again,
A paradox that never ends
I'm bound to what they've
Made of me,
And tied to their authority

Empty shell,
Empty room full of nothing
Substance please, like some disease
I can't feel anything
Void is a man
Who has time on his hands
And he's got a plan to swallow the world
So trudge to through the mire,
I'm weakened,
When everything seems so impossible

I'm losing all control again,
A paradox that never ends
I'm bound to what they've
Made of me,
And tied to their authority
I'm fighting off the demons
But they just keep on winning
Only I know
How to brave what's inside of me

How to brave what's inside of me...
Brave what's inside of me...

Hollow head,
Hollow point pointing at me,
Do you dare as if I care,
I can't feel anything
Future's a place in a dead mental case
With no memory trace,
To prove it's anything
So trudge to through the mire,
I'm weakened,
When everything seems so impossible

I'm losing all control again,
A paradox that never ends
I'm bound to what they've
Made of me,
And tied to their authority
I'm fighting off the demons
But they just keep on winning
Only I know
How to brave what's inside of me

Anchor
My ship down
To the depths of the deep blue sea
Redefine in your mind,
Triumph and try to find something pure for me...

I'm losing all control again,
A paradox that never ends
I'm bound to what they've
Made of me,
And tied to their authority
I'm fighting off the demons
But they just keep on winning
Only I know
How to brave what's inside of me/ x2

Brave what's inside of me...
