

Father may I go so slowly in my own dreams
Standing here alone in the dark know my place

Down where I've gone next time
Show me your glory won't go away won't go away
Then I saw the magic glowing out of your hand
If I could move each letter casting eyes from above you
Last time I have held diamonds in my hand
One time that you were alone you opened my eyes when I was sleeping thank you
You tower in the field, every to mourn inside of a dreaming world
So long will tire me till you fell asleep on me

Mother may I go so slowly in my own dreams
Standing here alone In the dark know my place

Down where I've gone next time
Show me your glory wont go away just go away
Then I saw the magic glowing in your eyes
If I could move each letter casting eyes from above
You remind me of a secret, place, woe

Then I saw the magic glowing out (of) you're name
We'll ask your name oh, we'll ask your name
We'll ask you're name oh, It's hiding
You'll rise with lettered sky
We'll need so I can see
