

Worn Out Heart

Sunny Sweeney

Candy and Rose is calling on the phone
Saying hey babe I'm thinking about you, just you
Telling all my friends they're losing me again
Break your little heart in two
Bet you're thinking if you're sweet enough I'll just take you back
Wrong jack

You can't wear down a worn out heart
Like you can't mend a busted chain
You can't hang a promise on a burned out star
So quit coming around trying to wear down a worn out heart
Boy you had your chance
Don't even try to dance
Around the fact you done me wrong, so wrong
It's tearing you apart
Well bless your little heart
I put it in a country song
And at least I get a little something out of what we had
It's not bad

You can't wear down a worn out heart
Like you can't mend a busted chain
You can't hang a promise on a burned out star
So quit coming around trying to wear down a worn out heart

If you think I'm ever going down that road with you again
Get bent
Dead end

You can't wear down a worn out heart
You can't hang a promise on a burned out star
So quit coming around,
Yeah, quit coming around

You can't wear down a worn out heart
Like you can't mend a busted chain
You can't hang a promise on a burned out star
So quit coming around trying to wear down a worn out heart
